To Whom It May Concern:

I purchased the Spina Machine in December 2001 and began treating patients with it in January 2002. I've seen cases involving herniated disc, degenerative disc, spinal stenosis and facet arthropathy and have experienced positive changes with a majority of these. Some of these patients most certainly would have needed surgery without the benefit of decompression therapy. When a patient is not responding to traditional chiropractic care, it is reassuring to have the Spina Machine available to help assist with their problem.

In addition, working with Tony Devito and Spina Systems International has been a very rewarding experience. Tony has continued to offer his assistance in every way to assure that we have continued success with the Spina Machine.

Sincerely,

 D.C.
